

Northeast Baseball League, Inc.
Amendment to Constitution
5-25-2012

Official Game

If a game is an official game, 5 complete innings or 4 1/2 with the home team ahead, and you start another inning but do not complete that inning due to weather or darkness, the score will revert back to the last complete inning. Except during playoff games, that will be a suspended game, finished where you left off at a later date. Unless it is a tie, then the playoff game will start all over only if it went 7 or more complete innings. There are no suspended games during the regular season.

Example: Regular season game.

The home team is winning 5-4 after 6 complete innings. You start the 7th inning and the visiting team takes the lead 6-5, but the home team does not get to bat in the bottom of the 7th due to the game being called. The final score will revert back to the last completed inning, 5-4 home team wins.